Part Qualified Motor Pricing Actuary

AXA Insurance Ireland is looking to hire a part qualified actuary with at least 3-5 years personal lines pricing experience. This is an excellent opportunity to join one of Ireland’s largest motor insurers and to be involved in cutting edge pricing work.

AXA’s pricing department is made up of a small team which gives employees an ideal environment to develop and to gain responsibility. As well as carrying out regular pricing tasks the actuarial team work with many other departments within the company and are influential in management decision making.

The Position:
The successful applicant, reporting to the motor pricing actuary, will be involved in all aspects of the department’s day to day activities including both market pricing and technical rating analyses. The key responsibilities in this role include:

- Manage the pricing of designated private motor accounts.
- Propose rating changes to enhance the efficiency of AXA’s pricing proposition.
- Monitor the profitability of the private motor accounts versus targets.
- Monitor and communicate pricing KPIs to key stakeholders.
- Investigate new pricing developments to increase the sophistication of AXA’s pricing models.
- Carry out statistical analyses to assess the performance of existing AXA pricing models.
- Work with the wider private motor team to ensure that targets are achieved.
- Support the implementation of Actuarial IT projects as necessary.
- Maintain key rating controls and governance standards.

What we are looking for:
We are looking for a part qualified actuary with 3-5 years pricing experience. Candidates should be familiar with the latest developments in motor pricing in ROI, NI and UK, ideally with experience in data enrichment and new pricing techniques. The successful applicant will be capable of working both independently and as part of a team. Candidates should be proficient in Excel, Word, EMBlem, Radar and SAS. Experience with other actuarial software and other programming languages, such as R and VBA, is an advantage.

Remuneration:
- Competitive Salary - based on experience
- Staff discount on AXA products
- Annual Performance Bonus
- Health Insurance Subsidy
- Pension
- Profit Share Scheme
- And much more………
