The All Ireland Linguistics Olympiad (AILO), run from the SFI ADAPT Centre in the School of Computing, is contributing to public engagement and human capacity building in STEM and linguistic problem-solving.

Dozens of DCU staff and students from the School of Computing and SALIS have acted as AILO tutors since 2008.

AILO has moved successfully online during Covid-19 in order to keep engaging with our students, teachers and parents, winning the prestigious European Language Label (ELL) in 2020.

33,000 secondary school students engaged North and South.
