

Dear all,

We welcome you to the fifth newsletter of the International Research Network on Equity in Youth Education and Training - IRNEYET network. Our network is open for both policy makers and academics who are interested in research on the nature, consequences, causes, and solutions to disparities in youth education and training opportunities and outcomes across countries and education systems. In this fifth newsletter, we give you an update on all recently published papers of members of the IRNEYET network. We also will put every newsletter one researcher in the spotlight.

We would like to invite you to send new publications, toolkits, conferences, etc. to be included in the upcoming newsletters to Lore Van Praag (Lore.VanPraag@UAntwerpen.be), with material specifically on VET (Vocational Education and Training) to Irene Psifidou, Cedefop, European Centre for the Development of Vocational Training, Thessaloniki, Greece: rena.psifidou@cedefop.europa.eu.

Please invite new interested members working in this field of study to join the IRNEYET-network and ask them to contact Valerie McLoughlin valerie.mcloughlin@dcu.ie.

For more information about this network, have a look at our website: <https://www.dcu.ie/edc/International-Research-Network-Equity-Youth-Education-and-Training.shtml>

A warm welcome from the IRNEYET hosts,

Paul Downes, Educational Disadvantage Centre, Institute of Education, Dublin City University

Stephen Lamb, Center for International Research on Education Systems (Cires), Victoria University, Australia

Lore Van Praag, Center for Migration and Intercultural Studies (CeMIS) of the University of Antwerp

Russell W. Rumberger, California Dropout Research Project (CDRP), University of California

SPOTLIGHT RESEARCHER: PROF. DR. DOLF VAN VEEN - DIRECTOR OF THE NETHERLANDS CENTRE FOR EDUCATION AND YOUTH CARE (NCOJ)

Professor Dolf van Veen is director of the Netherlands Centre for Education and Youth Care (NCOJ), affiliated with Windesheim University of Applied Sciences (lecturer in Inclusion & Child and Youth Care) and, since 1998, special/honorary professor at the University of Nottingham. In 2009-2013 he was appointed as ambassador

Education and Youth Policy by the ministry of Education, Culture and Science, the ministry of Health, Welfare and Sports and the Association of Netherlands Municipalities. Previously, he worked in child and youth psychiatry, special education and youth care. In the early eighties he was appointed at the University of Leiden (faculty of psychology, department of developmental psychology and the faculty of pedagogy), followed by an appointment as head of pedagogy at the Nutsseminarium University of Amsterdam and director of ESAN, a consortium of eight educational institutes (with higher education) in the Amsterdam region and province of North Holland. Between 2000-2010 he was head of Education and Youth Care of the Netherlands Youth Institute and director of major national innovative educational and youth policy programmes on education and behaviour support teams in schools, schools and safety, and interprofessional support programmes for (vulnerable) children and youth in schools. Between 2013-2016 he was leading the Dutch Higher Education consortium on Teacher Education and Inclusion, and more recently, between 2015-2018 he was one of the leading researchers in the research consortium evaluating the Dutch version of more inclusive education.

His research and development work includes innovation programmes and policy strategies of cities, governments and education, health and human services serving vulnerable children and youth, their families and schools. He has written/edited over fifty books and numerous articles on topics like services integration (education, health and human services), equity and inclusive education, teacher education, intensive counseling, non-attendance and drop out, multi-service schools, prevention, behaviour and education support teams, rebound programmes, local youth policy, and safe and healthy schools. Publications during the last thirty years include Van Veen, Day & Sim (1997). Teachers and Teaching. International Perspectives on School Reform and Teacher Education. International Council on Education for Teaching & Garant Publishers: Leuven/Apeldoorn, and, Lawson & van Veen, A.F.D. (2018). Developing Community Schools, Community Learning Centers, Extended-service Schools and Multi-service Schools: International Exemplars for Practice, Policy, and Research. Switzerland: Springer International Publishing. He is on the editorial (advisory) board of several (international) journals. For more than twenty years he is convenor of the research network Urban Education & Children and Youth at Risk of the European Educational Research Association, chair of the Dutch National Platform for Education, Health and Human Services Platform, and chair of several Dutch initiatives to develop more inclusive teacher education. More recently, he was appointed as a member of the advisory group for more inclusive education of the Netherlands Institute for Human Rights. Together with national education and health and human services organizations he launched, in 2018, the platform to support policy and school development for inclusive education in the Netherlands (www.naarinclusieveronderwijs.nl).
