

Ollscoil Chathair
Bhaile Átha Cliath
Dublin City University

School of History and Geography Research seminar 2022/23 Semester 2

This is a hybrid event. All seminars take place in person (DCU SPD campus, D308) and are broadcasted live on Zoom. Registration link: https://dcuie.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJ0rdu-tpj8tH9PDsMZ7hHMWSujHvBwZAdfr

25 January, 3 pm

Prof Gary Murphy (DCU School of Law and Government)

Judging Haughey: writing modern Irish biography

8 February, 3 pm

Dr Fiona Gallagher (DCU School of History and Geography)

"Mapping the Miasma". Irish provincial towns and the 1832 Cholera pandemic: an analysis

22 Feb, 3pm

Joe Rodgers (DCU School of History and Geography, PhD student)

The commercial evolution of Sackville Street during the long nineteenth century

15 March, 3 pm

Dr Jack Kavanagh, UCD

Mapping the Irish civil war: sources, methods and challenges

29 March, 3pm

Kelly Adamson (DCU School of History and Geography, PhD student)

'He wants to go home': the use of deep sleep, insulin coma (ICT) and electro-convulsive (ECT) therapies in Irish district mental hospitals, 1939-1950