Dublin City University (www.dcu.ie) is a research-intensive, globally-engaged, dynamic institution that is distinguished both by the quality and impact of its graduates and by its focus on the translation of knowledge into societal and economic benefit. Excellence in its education and research activities has led to its consistent ranking in the top 50 of the world’s young universities (QS Top 50 under 50). DCU prepares its students well for success in life, and in the workplace, by providing a high-quality, rounded education appropriate to the challenges and opportunities of the 21st century. DCU is Ireland's fastest growing university and its next phase of major development involves strategic investments of more than €0.3bn, including a €0.2bn campus development plan.

Through its mission to transform lives and societies through education, research and innovation, DCU acts as an agent of social, cultural and economic progress. As Ireland’s University of Enterprise, it is renowned for its commitment to innovation and entrepreneurship and its proactive engagement with the enterprise sector.

DCU Faculty of Science & Health

The Faculty of Science and Health comprises six Schools (Biotechnology; Chemical Sciences; Health and Human Performance; Mathematical Sciences; Physical Sciences; Nursing and Human Sciences) and offers more than 25 Bachelor’s and Master’s degree programmes, many of which have affiliations to, or are recognised by, external professional bodies. The Faculty plays a key role in DCU's Research and Innovation agenda and is home to internationally-recognised Research Centres across a range of areas, including Cellular Biotechnology, Neurotherapeutics, Plasma Science and Technology, Sensors, Water Science and Technology, Nanotechnology, Biomedical Diagnostics and STEM Education. The Faculty places a strong focus on the employability of its graduates and is strongly committed to interdisciplinary teaching and research initiatives, which result in major economic and societal benefits.

The Position
