

DUBLIN CITY UNIVERSITY BUSINESS SCHOOL (DCUBS)

Lecturer in Management (Five year Contract)

An innovative and dynamic Business School, DCU Business School offers an extensive range of research and taught programmes at undergraduate, postgraduate, executive and doctoral levels. Working in close collaboration with other DCU faculties, business interests in the public and private sectors, and its international partners, the School's portfolio of programmes is regularly updated and expanded to reflect the changing needs of business leaders.

Position

The post holder will be a member of the Management Group, reporting to the Executive Dean of DCU Business School. The successful candidate will conduct high quality teaching and research in Management and contribute to the development, design, delivery and management of courses at undergraduate, postgraduate and executive levels. The post holder will also be expected to contribute to School administration. The Management Group brings together academics whose research and teaching interests span a wide range of areas. The Group enjoys a growing international reputation for research with a number of recent high profile funding successes from several major research bodies including Enterprise Ireland, FP7 and Interreg. The Group is primarily responsible for all undergraduate and postgraduate teaching, and research supervision, in the areas of Business Process Innovation, eCommerce, Information Systems, Management, Operations Management, Organisation Theory, Strategic Leadership, Strategic Management, Strategic Procurement, Supply Chain Management and Emergency Management. The group contributes to the full range of academic programmes within DCU Business School and Executive Education including the professional doctoral programme and the MBA, with particular responsibility for the MSc in Management, the MSc in eCommerce (Business), the MSc in International Management, the MBS in Strategic Procurement and the MSc in Emergency Management.

Main Duties

1. Research

To contribute to this research activity by:

- Publishing new ideas and findings in quality national and international journals
- Providing academic leadership through helping to maintain and enhance a research culture
- Seeking funds to support research initiatives
- Contributing to research activities such as conferences, seminars etc.
- Maintaining an active and sustainable programme of research

2. Teaching

The successful candidate is expected:

- To contribute to the development and delivery of Management modules at DCU Business School in a manner consistent with the highest academic standards
- To use a wide range of learning and teaching methodologies and assessments which foster a positive learning environment for students

- To work proactively in improving existing courses and programmes
- To contribute to the design and development of new courses and programmes
- To provide supervision for research and graduate students

3. Good Citizenship

- To play an appropriate role in the administration and leadership/management of DCU Business School and the Group
- To contribute to the running of DCU Business School's activities through participation in, for example, ad hoc committees and open days
- To be prepared to contribute proactively to relevant University and external committees

4. External Contribution

- To raise the external profile of DCU Business School by establishing close working relationships with organisations and professional bodies and other contributions to its external profile
- To represent the School externally as appropriate

Person Specification

Applicants for the post must hold an honours degree in a relevant discipline, should be qualified to a post-graduate level and have completed a doctoral qualification in the field. The successful candidates will also have a minimum of three years relevant experience, with a record of high quality university-level teaching.

The successful candidate will be required to contribute to the research activity of the School and to the design, delivery and management of courses at undergraduate, postgraduate and executive levels. The candidate should also demonstrate high quality interpersonal and communication skills consistent with the highest quality of teaching and learning, together with evidence of successful teamwork and a collegial approach. Relevant industrial experience would be an advantage.

All areas of management will be considered, with experience in the areas of Strategy, Management & Organisational Analysis or Operations Management preferable.

The successful candidate will have the opportunity to play a leadership role in the further development of the School's national and international reputation, and to make a significant contribution to the research activity of the School and to the design, delivery and management of courses at undergraduate, postgraduate and executive levels.
