7.2.3 Schools Report
COMMUNICATIONS [T. LOKOT]

Research Centres & Other Grant Projects

FUJO Institute for Future Media and Journalism:
FuJo organised a workshop on deliberative democracy in legislative domains, as part of PEREDEP, a Marie Curie funded project spearheaded by Dr Anastasia Deligiaouri (Marie Curie Experienced Research Fellow). The workshop took place on 9th May, 2019.

Celsius Research Cluster:
The Celsius Research Group held an event on 30th May, 2019, Engaged Medicine: Case Studies of Challenges to Effective Health Communication.

Research Events

- The DCU Media History Collection (curated by Dr Mark O'Brien) launched an exhibition, 'Fearless: The Journalism of Mary Raftery', on Thursday 25 April at 6pm in the Library, DCU Glasnevin Campus. The exhibition is based on the Mary Raftery Papers which have been donated to the Media History Collection and is being held to mark the 20th anniversary of the airing of the ground-breaking documentary series 'States of Fear'. The exhibition launch also served as the launch pad for a new journalism industry award - The Mary Raftery Prize - which will be awarded annually to an individual or small team responsible for journalistic work produced on the island of Ireland in the calendar year preceding the award which, in the view of the judges, combined the rigorous analysis and commitment to social justice which characterised Mary Raftery's journalism and resulted in a significant impact on society.

- Dr Tanya Lokot together with Dr Maria Falina in the School of History and Geography co-organised the 42nd IARCEES International Annual Conference (Irish Association of Russian, Central and East European Studies), on All Hallows Campus on May 9-11, 2019.

- Dr Roddy Flynn (with Dr Tony Tracy) spoke at a IFI Spotlight Public Event on May 30, 2019 on the state of Irish film and television industry.

Funding Applications

- Dr Alessio Cornia (Co-PI) – DeToxN: Dealing with Toxic News: everyday strategies to navigate disinformation-driven news environments. Grant application submitted to the NORFACE/IRC call as co-PI, together with colleagues based at: Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Roskilde University, and University of Tartu, Estonia. (DCU budget submitted: 369,166 euros).

- PhD student Paul O’Neill was the awardee of Irish Arts Council Travel and Training funding in May 2019.
PGR/PhD Updates (from Jim Rogers)

- Seven new PG scholarships offered by the School of Communications in our recent competition (due to commence in October 2019)
- In addition to this, it is likely that we will have two new part-time scholars registering early in 2019-20 also. As up to ten of our current candidates are due to graduate or submit the final thesis for viva by early 2020, this marks a very significant turnover of students in this domain. (3 already completed viva; 7 more to submit by January 2020)
- One current PG researcher (Orla Ni Dhuill) was successful in obtaining IRC PG scholarship funding (under the supervision of Tanya Lokot)
- Daniel Carey (supervisor Mark O’Brien) won the recent Tell It Straight competition – a competition run by Graduate Studies that challenges students to present their research in a concise and accessible manner to a non-specialist audience.

Staff Fellowships & Awards, Postdocs, Visiting Staff

Dr Jane Suiter, received the DCU President’s 2019 Research Award (Humanities and Social Sciences, Business, Education and related areas) at a ceremony on 1 May, 2019.

8. Research and Innovation Support Services [J .CARRIGAN]

Open calls/funding opportunities

IRC COALESCE: terms and conditions, FAQs, and indicative application form are available on the IRC website. The Call will officially open shortly with a deadline 8th August.

IRC Ulysses Scheme is now open with the deadline of 25th Sept. The aim of the Ulysses scheme is to foster new collaborations between Irish- and French-based researchers by providing seed funding for reciprocal travel visits over the course of one year. The scheme thus facilitates the exchange of innovative ideas and approaches between Irish- and French-based researchers across all disciplines.

In addition to Council funding, a number of proposals concerning renewable energies and smart grids may be funded by EirGrid in partnership with Réseau de Transport d’Électricité.

A number of proposals concerning patient-oriented and clinical research, population health or health services research may be funded by the Health Research Board.

A number of proposals concerning climate change may be funded by the Sustainable Energy Authority of Ireland in partnership with ADEME.

Marie Skłodowska-Curie Individual Fellowships call remains open. The deadline for applications is 11th Sept 2019. More details available on the funding and tenders portal. A valuable resource is also the Irish Marie Curie Office and a pre-recorded information webinar by the MSCA national contact point.
If applying for European Research Council award, it was noted that EI Support (up to the value of €16,000) must be applied for at least 6 months in advance of the call closing.

Training and Events

Want to contribute to a consultation on Open Science?
In an effort to support Open Science practices in the humanities, the ALLEA E-Humanities Working Group has drafted recommendations for humanities researchers working with data, and launched an open consultation. The working group is seeking contributions from researchers and practitioners working in disciplines within the humanities, as well as policy makers and representatives of public and private organisations working in the field. The purpose of the open consultation is to gather broad feedback from active humanities researchers, in order to best tailor FAIR recommendations to the humanities.

How to contribute?
The consultation document is available as an open Google doc here: http://bit.ly/ALLEADH. You can contribute by leaving comments, making suggested edits, asking questions, or providing use-cases directly in the document. If you sign into a Google account before contributing, then your name/email address will be visible in the document, and we can acknowledge your participation in our final publication.

The open consultation closes on 15th July 2019. For more information, see the ALLEA E-Humanities Working Group home page.

TORA Applications and Awards

FHSS Applications on TORA (April 3rd-18th June)
4 applications for external funding (see appendix)

FHSS Awards on TORA (April 3rd-18th June)
8 awards created on TORA (see appendix)

9. Library [V. SMYTH]

SECTION D: OTHER ISSUES

10. Any Other Business
10.1 AFA Consultancy [TL]
International student agency, AFA Consultancy, approached the School of Communications regarding student placement for Saudi Arabia/Pakistani PhD students. It was confirmed this type of query should be directed to the International Office.

10.2 Campus Accommodation for PhD students [RS]
The deadline for campus accommodation is too early for scholarship students to apply. Chair agreed to discuss with the Dean but noted this is a University issue.

Action: Chair

10.3 Appeals process for Scholarships [RS]
SALIS requested investment in word count technology to facilitate the scholarship application assessment due to the appeals received. Chair to liaise with Ryoko Sasamoto.

Action: Chair

10.4 Postgraduate Research Student Representation
The School of Theology, Philosophy, and Music are responsible for recruiting a student representative for the next academic year. Secretary agreed to liaise with the school research convenor.

Action: Secretary & Research Convenor

10.5 Non-native English speakers in Faculty [RS]
SALIS requested support for non-native English speakers in the faculty. It was suggested funding for proof reading of articles would be beneficial.

10.6 CTTS Conference Funding
CTTS students are organizing a conference and the representative enquired if any funding was available. The faculty workshop scheme was discussed and no additional funding is available.
