

Applications are invited from suitably qualified candidates for the following position.

Lecturer in International Relations
Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences
School of Law and Government
11 Month Fixed Term (Full-time)

Dublin City University

Dublin City University (DCU) is a leading innovative European University. It is proud to be one of the world's leading Young Universities and is among the world's top 2% globally. DCU is known as Ireland's University of Impact, with a mission to 'transform lives and societies' and focuses on addressing global challenges in collaboration with key national and international partners and stakeholders.

DCU has over 20,000 students in five faculties spread across three academic campuses in the Glasnevin-Drumcondra area of North Dublin. Thanks to its innovative approach to teaching and learning, the University offers a 'transformative student experience' that helps to develop highly sought-after graduates. DCU is currently No. 1 in Ireland for Graduate Employment Rate, and for graduate income (CSO).

DCU is a research-intensive University and is home to a number of SFI-funded Research Centres. The University participates in a range of European and international research partnerships. DCU is also the leading Irish university in the area of technology transfer as reflected by licensing of intellectual property.

As a 'People First' institution, DCU is committed to Equality, Diversity and Inclusion - a University that helps staff and students to thrive. The University is a leader in terms of its work to increase access to education and is placed in the world's Top 10 for reducing inequalities in the Times Higher Education Impact Rankings.

Overview of the department

The School of Law and Government is an ambitious, research-intensive school. It has a range of programmes at BA, MA, and PhD level. The School has over forty research students and offers a structured PhD in Politics and International Relations.

The School was awarded Law School of the Year Award at the Irish Law Awards 2021. We offer challenging programmes and undertake ambitious research across a wide range of subjects in law, politics, and international relations. We invite you to find out more about our teaching at undergraduate, postgraduate, and PhD levels, as well as our research interests, including publications and international collaborative projects.

Role Profile

The School of Law and Government intends to appoint a new Lecturer in International to begin on 1 August 2023. The successful candidate will be expected to teach a number of modules as agreed with the Head of School. The School is committed to high quality research, expects its staff to publish regularly in leading journals and with leading university presses and supports its staff in such work. We have led research programmes supported by the Irish Research Council, the EU and other national and international funders.

Duties and Responsibilities

Please refer to the job description for a list of duties and responsibilities associated with this role.

Qualifications and Experience

Applicants for the position should have or be near completion a PhD in a relevant area of social sciences. The successful candidate will have some experience of university teaching at lecturer/assistant professor level, will be able to convincingly demonstrate a strong commitment to academic research and will have a track-record of international peer-reviewed publications or demonstrate potential for same. The successful candidate should be capable of working in a team and contributing to developing the teaching and research agenda within the School.

Essential Training

The postholder will be required to undertake the following essential compliance training: Orientation, Health & Safety, Data Protection (GDPR) and all Cyber Security Awareness Training. Other training may need to be undertaken when required.

Salary Scale:

Assistant Professor below the bar: €44,125-€60,422 pro rata.

Appointment will be commensurate with qualifications and experience and in line with current Government pay policy.

Closing date: Tuesday, 6th June 2023

For more information on DCU and our benefits, please visit Why work at DCU?

Informal Enquiries in relation to this role should be directed to:

Kenneth McDonagh, Head of School, School of Law and Government, Dublin City University.

Phone + 353 (0)1 700 6476 Email: kenneth.mcdonagh@dcu.ie

Application Procedure:

Application forms are available from the DCU Current Vacancies website at

<https://www.dcu.ie/hr/vacancies-current-vacancies-external-applicants>

Applications should be submitted by e-mail with your completed application form to kenneth.mcdonagh@dcu.ie

Please clearly state the role that you are applying for in your application and email subject line: Job Ref NR332 Lecturer in International Relations

Dublin City University is an equal opportunities employer.

In line with the Employment Equality Acts 1998 – 2015, the University is committed to equality of treatment for all those who engage with its recruitment, selection and appointment processes.

The University's Athena SWAN Bronze Award signifies the University's commitment to promoting gender equality and addressing any gender pay gaps. Information on a range of university policies aimed at creating a supportive and flexible work environment are available in the DCU Policy Starter Packs