

Applications are invited from suitably qualified candidates for the following position

0.5 Assistant Professor in English
School of English
Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences
Up to 4 Years, 0.5 Fixed-Term Position

Dublin City University

Dublin City University (DCU) is a leading innovative European University. It is proud to be one of the world's leading Young Universities and is among the world's top 2% globally. DCU is known as Ireland's University of Impact, with a mission to 'transform lives and societies' and focuses on addressing global challenges in collaboration with key national and international partners and stakeholders.

DCU has over 20,000 students in five faculties spread across three academic campuses in the Glasnevin-Drumcondra area of North Dublin. Thanks to its innovative approach to teaching and learning, the University offers a 'transformative student experience' that helps to develop highly sought-after graduates. DCU is currently No. 1 in Ireland for Graduate Employment Rate, and for graduate income (CSO).

DCU is a research-intensive University and is home to a number of SFI-funded Research Centres. The University participates in a range of European and international research partnerships. DCU is also the leading Irish university in the area of technology transfer as reflected by licensing of intellectual property.

As a 'People First' institution, DCU is committed to Equality, Diversity and Inclusion – a University that helps staff and students to thrive. The University is a leader in terms of its work to increase access to education and is placed in the world's Top 10 for reducing inequalities in the Times Higher Education Impact Rankings.

The School of English

The School of English, Dublin City University, is a research active and vibrant school with specialist knowledge in children's and young adult literature, creative writing, poetry, Irish studies, and the long nineteenth century.

The School of English teaches into a number of undergraduate programmes (including the Bachelor of Arts Joint Honours, the Bachelor of Arts Media Studies, and the Bachelor of Religious Education programmes), two taught postgraduate programmes (Creative Writing, and Children's and Young Adult Literature), and a PhD programme. The School of English is also home to the Centre for Research in Children's and Young Adult Literature and the Irish Centre for Poetry Studies.

The School of English is committed to high-quality research and publications and supports colleagues in such work.

Role Profile

The School of English anticipates appointing an Assistant Professor in English, commencing 1 September 2023.

Amongst other things, the successful candidate

- will be expected to play a dynamic part in the delivery of the School of English's current taught programmes at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and to contribute to the identification, development and delivery of new programmes, especially in creative writing (drama/dramaturgy);
- will also be required to support the school's tutorial and research seminar systems.

The School of English also offers opportunities to supervise postgraduate students and encourages and supports applications for external research funding. The School of English is committed to high quality research, expects colleagues to publish regularly in leading journals and with leading university and academic presses and assists colleagues in such work.

Duties and Responsibilities

Please refer to the job description for a list of duties and responsibilities associated with this role.

Qualifications and Experience

Applicants for the position must hold an honours undergraduate degree and have completed a doctoral qualification in English (in creative writing, preferably playwrighting).

The successful individual will have

- a primary expertise in creative writing (drama/dramaturgy);
- experience of third-level module development, teaching, assessment, and administration at undergraduate and postgraduate levels.
- a research and publication record commensurate with experience, or a research and publication plan consistent with the profile and ambitions of the School of English, and a record in professional playwrighting.
- excellent interpersonal and communication skills consistent with the highest quality of teaching and learning, along with evidence of successful teamwork and a collegial approach.

Essential Training

The postholder will be required to undertake the following essential compliance training: Orientation, Health & Safety and Data Protection (GDPR). Other training may need to be undertaken when required.

Salary Scale

Assistant Professor: €58,629 - €93,957.

Appointment will be commensurate with qualifications and experience and in line with current Government pay policy.

Closing Date: Wednesday 21st June 2023

For more information on DCU and our benefits, please visit Why work at DCU?

Informal Enquiries in relation to this role should be directed to

Head of School Dr Keith O'Sullivan, at keith.osullivan@dcu.ie

Please do not send applications to this email address, instead apply as described below.

Application Procedure

Application forms are available from the DCU Current Vacancies website at

<https://www.dcu.ie/hr/vacancies-current-vacancies-external-applicants>

Applications should be submitted by e-mail with your completed application form to hr.applications@dcu.ie

Please clearly state the role that you are applying for in your application and email subject line: Job Ref: #NR341 0.5 Assistant Professor in English

Dublin City University is an equal opportunities employer.

In line with the Employment Equality Acts 1998–2015, the University is committed to equality of treatment for all those who engage with its recruitment, selection, and appointment processes.

The University's Athena SWAN Bronze Award signifies the University's commitment to promoting gender equality and addressing any gender pay gaps. Information on a range of university policies aimed at creating a supportive and flexible work environment are available in the DCU Policy Starter Packs