Dublin City University

Dublin City University (DCU) is a leading innovative European University. It is proud to be one of the world's leading Young Universities and is among the world's top 2% globally. DCU is known as Ireland's University of Impact, with a mission to 'transform lives and societies' and focuses on addressing global challenges in collaboration with key national and international partners and stakeholders.

DCU has over 20,000 students in five faculties spread across three academic campuses in the Glasnevin-Drumcondra area of North Dublin. Thanks to its innovative approach to teaching and learning, the University offers a 'transformative student experience' that helps to develop highly sought-after graduates. DCU is currently No. 1 in Ireland for Graduate Employment Rate, and for graduate income (CSO).

DCU is a research-intensive University and is home to a number of SFI-funded Research Centres. The University participates in a range of European and international research partnerships. DCU is also the leading Irish university in the area of technology transfer as reflected by licensing of intellectual property.

As a 'People First' institution, DCU is committed to Equality, Diversity and Inclusion - a University that helps staff and students to thrive. The University is a leader in terms of its work to increase access to education and is placed in the world's Top 10 for reducing inequalities in the Times Higher Education Impact Rankings.

Overview of the department

The DCU Institute of Education is the newest faculty of Dublin City University. Established in 2016 as Ireland's first university faculty of education, it has a staff of more than 140 full-time academics, an administrative team of 30 and a student body in excess of 4,000. The Institute brings together students of education across all sectors from early childhood to primary and post-primary and further and higher education. As well as providing a range of undergraduate programmes in education, the Institute offers a rich menu of taught and research-based post-graduate programmes at doctoral, masters, diploma and certificate levels.

Role Profile

This post is located in the Faculty Office Placements and Engagements Team. The Faculty delivers a range of academic programmes which require students to undertake a period of time on work placement in a school, early childhood or other educational setting. The Placements and Engagements team are responsible for administering the full range of activities associated with student education placements; and are involved in external engagements activity such as internationalisation, the administration of continuing professional development for teachers and the IoE Helpdesk.

The successful individual will report to the Assistant Faculty Manager (or nominee) and will work closely with academic colleagues. The person appointed will be responsible for delivering placement and engagement administrative activities and for review and streamlining of routine administrative processes.
