DCU Institute of Education
2 Year Fixed-Term Contract from September 2021
Roles vacant: 6

Overview

Dublin City University (www.dcu.ie) is a research-intensive, globally-engaged, dynamic institution that is distinguished by both the quality and impact of its graduates and its focus on the translation of knowledge into societal and economic benefit. DCU prepares its students well for success in life, and in the workplace, by providing a high-quality, rounded education appropriate to the challenges and opportunities of the 21st century. As Ireland's University of Enterprise and Transformation, DCU is characterised by a focus on innovation and entrepreneurship and a track-record of effective engagement with the enterprise sector, including commercial, social and cultural enterprises. Excellence in its education and research activities has led to DCU's consistent position in the rankings of the world's top young universities.

Overview of the department

The DCU Institute of Education is the newest faculty of Dublin City University. It is based in a €70 million purpose built facility on the DCU St Patrick's Campus in Drumcondra in Dublin. Established in 2016 as Ireland's first University faculty of Education, it has a staff of more than 130 full-time academics and a student body in excess of 4,000.

The Institute brings together students of education across all sectors from early childhood, to primary and post-primary and further and higher education. As well as providing a range of undergraduate programmes in education, the Institute offers a rich menu of taught and research-based post-graduate programmes, at doctoral, masters, diploma and certificate levels.

As a centre of expertise and excellence in teacher education and education more generally, the Institute hosts a range of research centres in key areas of priority and has an ambitious and growing programme of research. With internationally-recognised experts in education policy, inclusive and special education, curriculum and pedagogy, assessment, literacy, evaluation, digital learning and teacher education, the Institute provides a dynamic learning and working environment. Staff can expect to encounter opportunities for multi-disciplinary work, not just in the Institute, but across the University. As one of the world's leading young Universities, DCU has established its fifth and newest faculty out of a conviction that studies and research in education and the preparation and support of teachers are central to the transformation of lives and communities.

Committed to academic excellence and innovation, the DCU Institute of Education is confident its students and staff, and its graduates can flourish and lead in the challenging and complex contexts of education in the 21st century.

Role Profile

This is a new initiative by the DCU Institute of Education and is the first of this kind in an Irish higher education institute, arising out of our historic dedication to the promotion of teaching as a profession and to the ongoing development of our own programmes of teacher education.

The DCU Institute of Education is seeking to recruit 6 full-time Teacher Fellows to assist the development of student teachers across our primary and post-primary initial teacher education programmes. Teacher Fellows will also have an opportunity to pursue part-time Masters or Doctoral studies for the period of the fellowship, or undertake modules from a range of programmes on a not-for-credit basis, as part of a programme of personalised professional development for each fellow. These studies will be free for the Teacher Fellows. This exciting new initiative offers teachers registered with the Teaching Council in Ireland the opportunity to share their teaching knowledge and experience with student teachers, acting as a 'teacher in residence' while also pursuing their own professional development.

This role may suit teachers who are at various stages of their career and may require the arrangement of a career break.
