Country Specific Guide- ICAM Lille, France

Lille is a city in the North of France. It is the principal city of the Lille Métropole, the fourth-largest metropolitan area in France after those of Paris, Lyon and Marseille. Lille is situated in French Flanders, on the Deûle River, near France's border with Belgium. It is the capital of the Nord-Pas de Calais region and the prefecture of the Nord department.

The city of Lille, to which the previously independent town of Lomme was annexed on 27 February 2000, had a population of 226,827 as recorded by the 2009 census. However, Lille Métropole, which also includes Roubaix, Tourcoing and numerous suburban communities, had a population of 1,091,438. The eurodistrict of Lille-Kortrijk, which also includes the Belgian cities of Kortrijk, Tournai and Mouscron, had 1,905,000 residents. Lille can be described as having a temperate oceanic climate; summers do not reach high temperatures, but winters can fall below zero temperatures. Precipitation is above average year round.

‘Lille (Rijsel in Flemish) may be France’s most underrated major city. In recent decades this once-grimy industrial metropolis, its economy based on declining industries, has transformed itself – with generous government help – into a glittering and self-confident cultural and commercial hub’ - Lonely Planet

Residence permit

If you are studying in France for more than 3 months you must obtain a residence permit within 2 months following your arrival, specifying your student status. The maximum validity for the residence permit is one year and it can be renewed.

A service to help draw up or renew residence permits is available at the Université Lille 1 for registered students who must present the following documents:

- a photocopy of your passport and long stay visa (except for EU students)
- confirmation of enrolment
- 4 black and white identity photos
- proof of your social security cover (E111 form or E128 form for European students, or a copy of your private insurance cover and its translation in French for students from outside the EU)
- proof of domicile in the name of the applicant
- proof of sufficient resources; minimum required- 412€ per month in one of the following ways:
  either a guarantee that you live with a person residing in France, who must write an attestation declaring that they are looking after you, stating any kinship if applicable, proof of identity and proof of resources.
  or an attestation by a French bank that there is enough money in your account to cover your stay.
  or an attestation of a grant for French government grant-holders.
- a copy of your birth certificate on which the identity of your parents should appear clearly (name, date and place of birth) or a certificate of civil status. The birth certificate must be translated into French by an official translator or by the Embassy or the Consulate of your country of origin. Your birth certificate and its translation must be stamped with the seal of the French Embassy or the French Consulate.
- you must bring the original documents and their photocopies.
- a receipt of application for a residence permit valid for 3 months will be given to you after you have handed in your application. You should obtain your official residence permit a short time later.

Non-European visitors must undergo a simple medical check-up before they may obtain authorisation for a residence permit. As the administrative process to get a residence permit is long, you are strongly recommended to begin the process as soon as you arrive in France.

Social Security

Getting necessary healthcare in other EU / EEA countries
As an Irish resident you are entitled to get healthcare through the public system in countries of the European Union (EU), European Economic Area (EEA) or Switzerland if you become ill or injured while on a temporary stay there. Until now, you needed an E form – such as the E111 or the E128 - to get such treatment. Now, these paper forms are being replaced by the European Health Insurance Card. One Card is needed for each individual or member of the family.

The Card was introduced on 1 June 2004. It means that you can get necessary healthcare in the public system of any EU / EEA country or Switzerland, if you become ill or injured while on a temporary stay in that country.

Getting There

Getting to Lille is easy. You can cross the Channel by train or boat to Calais with your car and from there take the A16/A26 motorway direct to Lille. The car journey should take around 90 minutes.

If you prefer to make your way to Dunkirk, you can take the A25/A26 motorway direct to Lille and the car journey should take around 90 minutes.

The most direct route is to catch the Eurostar from St Pancras station in London. You can’t take the car, but once in Lille its just a couple of minutes from the station to the town centre by foot.

PS. Don’t forget your passport

By Ferry

Ferry is one of the easiest and cheapest ways to get to Calais, and the services offered by ferry companies have improved massively in recent years. More competition has encouraged better prices, and there is now a great choice of places to catch the ferry from. Ferries are far less hassle than planes, saving you time and aggravation, as well as money. If you need your car, the benefits are huge, taking your own car on a ferry saves you having to sort out transport when you arrive in France, it also enables you to carry a lot of luggage to and from France!

Lille Airport

Lille Airport is situated in the centre of a very dense motorway network: the A1 Paris-Lille, the A25 Dunkerque-Lille, the A23 Valenciennes-Lille, the A22 Gand-Lille etc.

This location makes it very easy to get to the airport. Apart from its proximity to Belgium and the towns of the Nord-Pas-de-Calais region, the airport is only 15 minutes from the centre of Lille and its Railway stations, the Lille airport shuttle links the airport to those stations. Although this is an international airport, there are no flights direct to the UK.

Getting Around

The Lille Métropole has a mixed mode public transport system, which is considered one of the most modern in the whole of France. It comprises buses, trams and a driverless metro system, all of which are operated under the Transpole name. The Lille Metro is a VAL system (véhicule automatique léger = light automated vehicle) that opened on 16 May 1983, becoming the first automatic metro line in the world. The metro system has two lines, with a total length of 45 kilometres (28 miles) and 60 stations. The tram system consists of two interurban tram lines, connecting central Lille to the nearby communities of Roubaix and Tourcoing, and has 45 stops. 68 urban bus routes cover the metropolis, 8 of which reach into Belgium.

Railways

Lille is an important crossroads in the European high-speed rail network. It lies on the Eurostar line to London (1:20 hour journey). The French TGV network also puts it only 1 hour from Paris, 35 minutes from Brussels and other major centres in France such as Marseille, Lyon, and Toulouse further away. It has two railway stations, which stand next door to one another: Lille-Europe station (Gare de Lille-Europe), which primarily serves high-speed trains and international services (Eurostar), and Lille-Flandres station (Gare de Lille-Flandres), which primarily serves lower speed regional trains and regional Belgian trains.

Air traffic

Lille Lesquin International Airport is 15 minutes from the city centre by car (11 km). In terms of shipping, it ranks fourth, with almost 38,000 tonnes of freight which pass through each year. Its passenger traffic, around 1.2 millions a year in 2010, is modest due to the proximity to Brussels and Paris-CDG airports. The airport mostly connects other French and European cities (some with low cost companies) as well as Mediterranean destinations.

All students and young people under 26 may obtain special transport fares, both for their daily journeys in and around the conurbation or in the region, and for occasional trips in France or abroad.

You can get a special reduction card (Jeune 12-25) from the SNCF which will enable you to obtain reductions of up to 25 % for train journeys in France, and 50% on all other trains depending on availability. This card cost 49€ in 2007.

Visa Procedures

Students from the European Union (1), the EEC (2) and Switzerland

Citizens from the European Union (1), the EEC (2) and Switzerland are exempted from the visa procedure. You can enter and stay in France with a national identity card or a valid passport.

For a stay greater than 3 months and for students from Romania and Bulgaria wishing to work in France, they will need to request a residence permit (carte de séjour). To obtain it, please contact the International Office of the university or school where you are enrolled.

(2) UE members + Iceland, Lichtenstein, Norway

Students from outside the European Union

Before leaving your country, you must contact the French Consulate of your country to obtain a long stay visa (stay in France for more than 3 months). A tourist visa is not enough and will lead to a refusal, followed by an expulsion after 3 months, and no recognition of the credits and diplomas obtained.

If you are coming for the European Summer Program, as the program is shorter than 3 months, most students will not need a visa but please check with esp@univ-catholille.fr for visa requirement for your home country.

For further information on visa requirement, you may also visit CampusFrance local office in your country.

For students of the following nationalities: Algeria - Argentina - Benin - Brazil - Burkina-Faso - Cameroon - Chile - China - Colombia -Comoros - Congo (Brazzaville) - Gabon - Guinea - India - Indonesia - Ivory Coast - Japan - Lebanon - Madagascar - Mali - Mauritius - Morocco - Mexico - Peru - Russia - Senegal - South Korea - Syria - Taiwan - Tunisia - Turkey - USA - Vietnam.

An online application procedure has been set up by the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs. This procedure must be followed and is mandatory to obtain a student visa.

For students from any other nationality:

Please check with the French Consulate which is the closest to your home. It will give the process and the list of required documents to get a visa.
Students need to have received Université Catholique de Lille acceptance letter (lettre d’invitation) before starting the visa application (the original letter is sent to the home university). A tourist visa is not sufficient and students will face being expelled from France after 3 months and any diplomas or credits obtained will not be recognised.

On arrival, you need to have your passport stamped with the date of your arrival by the Police in charge of the border. If you come in France through a Schengen country, the stamp should be put on your passport by the authorities of the country you arrive in first.

For students with visa CESEDA R.311-3 6° (Visa Long Séjour Valant Titre de Séjour): you will have to validate it by OFII (Office Français de l’Immigration et de l’Intégration). Please don't forget to bring with you the document provided by the French Consulate: "Visa de Long Séjour - Demande d’attestation OFII". Please contact the International Office of your host school or faculty. You will be helped to process the validation of your visa.

For students with visa "carte de séjour à solliciter": you will have to apply for a resident permit (carte de séjour). Please contact the International Office of your host school or faculty. You will be helped to apply for a Carte de Séjour.

For students with visa "Dispense temporaire": there is no administrative procedure to do after your arrival in France.

Banking and Insurance

To open a bank or post office account, you must bring your passport, proof that you are registered with the university and proof that you are living in the Lille area. In France, you can easily pay for all your purchases with a bank card and take out money from an account abroad. However, French law is very strict about bank overdrafts so make sure that your account is always in the black in order to avoid problems.

Moreover, you may be surprised at the number cash dispensers you will find in this area. This is a feature specific to France, and rarely found elsewhere. On the campus, there are two cash dispensers: one as you leave the Cité Scientifique metro station and another at « Le Pariselle » university restaurant.

How to have money sent to you: To transfer money to your French bank account, you can have it sent to your French account from your bank abroad. You need to know the SWIFT address of your bank in France as well as your full bank account details (RIB), and you must give this information to your bank abroad. The cost of transferring money varies from one bank to another: in the Euro zone, there is a fixed cost of around 12€ and for countries outside the Euro zone, you have to add an exchange rate commission to this fixed sum. In order to save on these fixed charges it is therefore more cost effective to send ‘large’ sums to your account. You can also use the Post Office to send money, in the same way as the bank.

Cost of Living

Living in France for a whole year will cost around 4500€. To obtain the residence permit, don’t forget that you must provide proof that you have sufficient resources (minimum 412€ per month)

Average monthly budget:
- Living in halls of residence rent approximately 210 € per month depending on the room meals in University restaurant 183 € books, equipment 80 € transport + Viva student card 29,40 €
Total : 495 €/ per month

- Living outside the halls of residence average rent in town 300 € transport 29,40 € meals in University restaurant 183 €
  books and equipment 80 €

Total : 650 €/ per month

Established in 1898 by two industrialists from the Nord region, the Icam campus in Lille is the flagship of the Icam group. Icam began as early as 1908 to offer professional training courses, extending the influence and reach of the school of engineering and its associated production workshops and ensuring social diversity, two goals that remain key parts of the school’s ethos. In the same spirit, in the early 1990s, Icam began offering engineering degrees through apprenticeship. The school is a 15-minute walk from the center of Lille on the campus of the Université Catholique de Lille, with its 20,000 students. An on-site residence hall provides housing for students and facilitates exchanges among students from different institutions. Icam is ideally situated, with easy access to Paris, London, and Brussels.

Major fields of study
- Full-time Icam engineering curriculum
- Icam engineering degree through apprenticeship
- Mastère Spécialisé (specialized master) in railway engineering

Research
Scientific research is a major growth area for the Icam Group. Research is conducted on behalf of and in cooperation with industry. The research policy of ICAM Lille is based on significant academic and industrial partnerships that reflect regional policies and exploit synergies among the institutions of the Icam Group.

Strengths
- Icam is a component of the Université Catholique de Lille, which has an enrollment of 20,000. The school is located on the university campus.
- Owing to the variety of the school’s programs (5 academic degree programs and numerous professional programs), social diversity is a daily fact of life at Icam and an important part of the school’s spirit.

2. Administrative formalities to be completed on arrival

a. At your Arrival

On arrival, you are expected to visit the foreign student advisor’s office (Céline Villaey) in order to fill in a form with personal details.

b. Learning Agreement

Depending on the demands of your university and in agreement with the Director of Studies of ICAM, you are required to draw up your Learning Agreement. Hélène Skrobala or Michele Pluss will give you the schedules in order to assist you in your choices.

c. Student Card

Céline Villaey will give you your Student ID a few days after your arrival.

d. Other administrative procedures

Erasmus students are free of any residence permit requirements. However, for non-Erasmus student, International Desk will guide you through the French administrative jungle.

e. Campus Fees

Campus Fees: for 2013-2014, the campus fees amount to 403€; for international students, the amount depends on the length of your stay on campus (for example, the amount for one semester is 201,50€). These fees cover services proposed to students on campus (like student associations activities, access to documentation, reprography ...)

3. Personal formalities

a. Housing Allowance

APL is a French Public Housing Allowance managed by the CAF (Family Allowance Office). If you want to apply, you should fill in a form available from the CAF web site (http://www.caf.fr/pdfj/al0.pdf) on your arrival in France. You can ask Céline Villaey.

The documents required are:

- A photocopy of passport or identity card.
- A birth certificate.
- A photocopy of your student card or school registration certificate.
- A photocopy of your residence permit (carte de séjour) except for EEA Nationals.
- A bank identity certificate (relevé d’identité bancaire or RIB) issued by your bank in France. In order to be able to apply for housing allowance (APL) paid by the CAF, you must open a bank account. Many banks have branches in the area and an appointment can be made by us with one.
- Your first rent receipt.

NB: you will receive your housing allowance only after three months due to the time it takes to process your file. Therefore, be prepared to pay the first month full rent (excluding charges) and to pay in advance the following months.
b. Health Insurance

Health Insurance is compulsory for all students. When registering, you will have to provide proofs of health insurance coverage, which may vary according to your situation:

If you are a student who comes from and leaves in a country within the European Economic Area (EEA): the European Card for Health Insurance (CEAM) must be delivered by the national health scheme of your country to which you or your parents subscribe. This will entitle you to the same student benefits free of charge as for French students. Don’t forget to bring your original document for social security cover.

If you are a student from another country: if you are under 28 years old, you must adhere to the French student health insurance scheme (which depends on two complementary insurance centres SMENO or LMDE). National Health insurance fees in 2011-2012: 200€
Work insurance fees in 2011-2012: 8€
You should fill in a form available from the Health Assurance website (http://www.caf.fr/pdfj/al0.pdf) on your arrival in France.
You can ask to Céline Villaey.

c. Bank account

ICAM is in close partnership with several following bank subsidiaries, among which are "La Poste" and the "Société Générale". It might be interesting to know if your current account bank is in partnership with another one in France (like HSBC), which could help you to save money from charges deducted from transfer payment and such. Feel free to ask to the BDE "Bureau des Elèves".

6. Playing Sport at ICAM

Sports take a huge part in students’ life. With our sport desk in Lille, called BDS, we offer the possibility to everyone to join a team and participate to almost every activity. Practicing just to have fun or playing against other schools for tournaments and challenges.

We propose almost 20 activities; it can be team sports like rugby, volley-ball, basket-ball, handball, soccer, or other individual sports like climbing, swimming, martial arts, squash...
All those activities are organized by our sport association, we also offer promotions to go to the swimming pool or the closest gym and there is the possibility to rent paintball equipment for a week end.

Our aim is to give the possibility to students to meet in the best conditions and have fun. We also organize events in the school like the “inter-promo tournament” where each year tries to do her best in each sport to win the title!

You want to be a part of it? To subscribe to the association you only need to bring a medical certificate to the office which is next to the BDE, it is open every Tuesday and Friday from noon to 1:30pm, the BDS team will be glad to answer any question!
Welcome to Lille!

Lille, the most Flemish of French cities, will seduce you with its colorful architecture and warm hospitality. At the heart of the Euroregion, the capital of Nord-Pas de Calais has all the attributes for a successful stay: 1000 years of fascinating history, great museums - including the "Palais des Beaux-Arts", the second museum in France after the Louvre -, friendly fashion boutiques and delicious gastronomy. Here more than elsewhere in France, Flemish art can be read on the facades and found in the culinary specialties with these amazing recipes: potjevleesh, waterzoï, etc. ...

In the Old town, in the Grand’Place and in many areas of the city, Lille adapts flourishing art admirably (well typified by "La Vieille Bourse") to all the refinement of French architecture. The rows of identical tall and narrow houses reflect the influence of French art which has been developed further to the conquest of the city by Louis XIV in 1667.

During many centuries, Lille was the capital of the Flemish Counts, then capital of Dukes of Burgundy, and also be part of the Spanish Netherlands.

With its business district and two TGV high speed train stations, now Lille is in the centre of Europe, Brussels, London, Paris, Luxemburg, Amsterdam.....

d. Going out

Lille has many good places to eat out or to have a drink. There are also numerous cinemas in the centre, as well as theatres and concert halls.

Lille has some beautiful sights, such as the Opera de Lille, the Old town, the Cathedral Notre-Dame de la Treille, the belfry, the Chamber of commerce, the main square....and many more.

The Northern France is also a nice area to discover: the full natural space of the coastline of the Opal coast,

e. La Braderie de Lille

Two days of shopping madness every first weekend in September draw over a million visitors to Lille. This is undoubtedly the biggest flea market in Europe. Imagine 200 kilometres of sidewalks occupied by stallholders, from the city and from all over Europe. Ever since medieval times, when the valets obtained the right to hold an annual sale of their masters' cast-off clothes and belongings, everything has been for sale and for purchase here. Other than bargain-hunting, another tradition has established itself here - that of a bowl of mussels and chips ("moules-frites") along with a glass of local beer.

During the sale weekend, the city is transformed, the pedestrian rules and everyone joins the celebration!
