About Dublin City University (DCU)

DCU is young, dynamic and ambitious with a distinctive mission to transform lives and societies through education, research and innovation. Close to Dublin City and the International Airport, DCU offers a multi campus environment across three locations all with top class facilities and student support. The main campus is located in Glasnevin close to Dublin Airport. The All Hallows and St. Patrick's campuses are located nearby in Drumcondra, close to Dublin City.

Dublin is a fantastic city to study in because of the variety of experiences available. There are plenty of museums, galleries and events in Dublin and a great range of restaurants and cafés to sample. There's plenty to do in Dublin and although its Ireland's capital, it's easy to escape the city with nearby scenic spots like the Botanic Gardens, Phoenix Park and Newgrange, part of Ireland's Ancient East. Great transport systems will get you around the city quickly and cheaply and campuses are within easy reach of the national road network for those wishing to explore other parts of Ireland.
