

Workshop Title, Date & Venue:

Digital literacies: what are they and how do they affect my teaching?

13:00 – 14:30 April 23rd 2013 in DG10 Bea Orpen

Workshop Overview:

This workshop will focus on digital literacies and how they relate to your teaching.

This is an introductory workshop to digital literacies and will be complemented by further workshops on issues of assessment and feedback. The term 'digital literacies' has been used in a variety of ways in higher education, so we will begin with an overview of the prominent interpretations and those that relate to DCU strategy such as Generation 21. Following we will discuss models of teaching that incorporate digital literacies.

Learning Outcomes:

On completion of this workshop you will be able to:

- Identify the main characterizations of digital literacies in higher education
- Reflect upon how digital literacies might affect your teaching and student learning

Workshop Participants:

This workshop is suitable for any lecturer who is interested in learning more about digital literacies. No prior knowledge of digital literacies is necessary.

Registration & Advance Preparation:

You must register here by April 22nd: <http://liuworkshopapril23.eventbrite.com/> to participate in this workshop; places are limited and will be allocated on first come first served basis.

Workshop Facilitator:

This workshop will be facilitated by Dr. Eloise Tan, Teaching and Learning Developer, Learning Innovation Unit, Dublin City University